

OUR SCHOOLS A CHIEF ASSET

Real estate values have advanced to appreciably since the city's last two bond issues for public improvement one can imagine how much the enhancement will prove with the third bond issue adopted, and particularly since it is for schools. It must not be forgotten the present school building is practically condemned. People from everywhere Bay St. Louis to patronize its schools.

SUBSCRIPTION $2 PER YEAR—ALWAYS IN ADVANCE

The Delta

The County Paper.

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI, SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1923

32ND YEAR—No. 22

HOW TO BEST EXPLOIT THE GULF COAST COUNTRY OF MISSISSIPPI.

Subject Intelligently and Ably Treated by Coast Resident—Constructive Advertising and Development of Latent Possibilities and Cultivation of Soil Essential.

Gulfport, Miss., May 31, 1923.

Editor Sea Coast Echo:

Human engineering is needed today—the ability to inculcate in others the desire to produce, to boost, to be efficient and economic. It is an inherent quality of the intelligent man in an effort to improve himself and his environment. But this desire to progress in the affairs of men must be cultivated and attended to, or else it is likely to lapse into a feeling of self-complacency.

Now, my application of this idea is that we people of South Mississippi are living in a section of the most respects. We should fully awaken to this fact, and not let the awakening produce a feeling of self-satisfaction and self-gratulation, but rather let this realization be an impetus to making our land even more "glorious."

It is but timeless repetition to state that South Mississippi is a locality of superior qualifications; that it is another California in the making endowed by Mother Nature with many natural advantages of which California, even now, cannot boast. But for the purpose of this article, it will not hurt for us to review the situation and dwell upon the potentialities of our "Canaan" by the Seaside, and see wherein consists its superiority over other sections of the country.

The most outstanding feature of our Coast country is its sheer beauty. The soothing expanse of water, with its rippling waves lapping the shore, is the foremost of scenic beauty. Then the luxuriant variety of evergreen trees which indent the shores of our water complete the panorama. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." The aesthetic sense of people will ever continue, and this is one reason why the Gulf Coast will be an attraction to the intelligent and cultured class of incomers and home-seekers.

The climate of our country is not far from being perfect. It is given to no one excess. The rainfall is equitable. Death from excessive heat is unknown here; while to freeze to death would be an anomaly. The general propensity of climate conditions can be ascertained when we see the "Gulf Coast" is a winter resort for the northerners and a summer resort for the southerners.

Economically speaking, the Gulf land is entitled to laurels. Our economic supremacy, however, is in a potential state. It is argued by some that our land is poor. This is true in speaking of certain crops, but to say that our land will not produce orchard crops is a poor contention in the face of the veritable Eden of vegetation which surrounds us. And, furthermore, we are living in the Age of Science. By the use of scientific formulae and processes our land can be made to produce a greater variety of farm products than any other section of the United States.

Our Coast land is the tableland of horticulture. The future prosperity of South Mississippi lies in her trees, as formerly its wealth consisted of pine forests. "Our grandfathers destroyed trees; we, in turn, must plant them." There is no orchard fruit of importance that will not thrive here under the proper care and cultivation. The Coast is the native land of the pecan; it is the adopted land of the citrus fruits. And let me say here that of all the things that can be grown in our section, the pecan, citrus, vegetable and strawberry industries fully and properly developed, will constitute the cornerstone of a great prosperity on the Gulf Coast. Marcus Aurelius said, "Look within is the fountain of good, and it will ever bubble up if thou wilt ever dig." The question for us to ask ourselves is, "are we willing to dig?" It was very forcibly struck with the following thought from "Robary Club Members" which I have recently read: "This is our country—yours and mine. We fought for it—now let us work for it." A fine slogan for all of us to adopt.

Now the second phase of the subject is: What means must we employ to bring about this development? How can we put our country on the map? I think that one of the most effective means of accomplishing this movement is by scientific advertisement. By advertising I do not mean haphazard, purposeless and exaggerated blarney of facts. No, I refer to that type of advertising that is constructive, agency, that informs and sets forth true conditions, and thus confers prestige upon the thing advertised.

Now it is my idea about this proposition to create such an office as an advertising specialist for the Coast. The counties of Harrison, Hancock, Jackson and Stone could each have their heads and hearts together and create a budget to finance the office. This office would have a staff of employees and could be organized in such a way that its own discretion, working in conjunction with the Board of Supervisors of the counties, could only properly be exercised in a manner that would be to the benefit of the Coast.

the means for such an office as I have suggested.

This is a commercial age, an age of hurry, efficiency, of strife, an age when men and money are staking a world drama to see which will win. There are so many big things, already launched into action, to engage our attention that the little things, no matter how full of latent possibilities, are dwarfed to microscopic dimensions in comparison. Just as the beginning of philosophy is to know the condition of one's own mind, so is the beginning of economic prosperity in South Mississippi dependent upon recognizing actual existing conditions, our now dormant natural resources and the application of the remedy—efficient advertising.

I believe in the present and future of the Gulf Coast. I believe in the efficiency of advertising. Finally, I believe that the Lord helps those that help themselves; that our country, with the assistance of those suggested, may provide the means of self help is my earnest desire.

A. K. JEFFRIES.

SPANISH TRAIL ROADWAY TO NEW ORLEANS.

A Reply to "Tax-Payer and Voter" Communication in Last Week's Echo.

Editor Sea Coast Echo:

Dear Sir: I notice in your last issue an article which was given as much prominence by your newspaper as is generally given a scarecrow by a planter trying to frighten the swanks out of his cornfield. I wish you would give the same prominence to this article in reply.

My dear Mr. Voter and Tax-Payer, it is with considerable regret that I note your intense frame of mind and fear about the actions of the Federal Highway Commission.

What is the fear, dear fellow citizen, that is producing a tender opinion to cause you to develop such fear? For every cause there is an effect, and for every effect there is a cause. Now don't you think your fellow citizens would like to know from whence you secured such knowledge of fear?

Your remarks about the assured fact that the Federal Highway Commission is on the side of the L. & N. tracks might be well taken, but you must figure in the balance just how much first-class work has been done on such a road south of the L. & N., and also figure out who is responsible for such a flimsy construction of a road. No, why did you consent for such a flimsy constructed highway?

Some years ago engineers said that the Galveston causeway would never hold; other engineers said that the Florida Keys Railway was an impossibility. They have both been constructed and serve wonderful purposes, and the Almighty has only seen cause to damage one of these wonderful projects. So you have such little faith in the works of the Almighty that you would not take a chance of doing justice to the majority of the people by building a road on the south side of the L. & N. of such a stability that it would stand up against the elements on such a highway, and only the acts of the Almighty would put it under.

Cheer up, my fellow citizen, if you have been whipped by not getting the Spanish Trail through what route you have most paramount in mind, be a good loser put your shoulder to the dig and fight for the cause that will serve the most people, and the cause that was voted for by you, fellow citizens, and the majority of supervisors.

Help the citizens to improve conditions in Hancock county, and help them to spend their money to make the Gulf Coast a Palm Beach or an Atlantic City, and not an eyesore as it is today.

Cheer up, old sport, wear a smile and the world smiles with you.

Very truly yours,

VOTER-TAXPAYER.

A. & G. THEATRE PROGRAM.

Attractions Coming for Next Week.

MONDAY, JUNE 4.

Hollywood's "Habit," Bud Messenger in a travel comedy.

TUESDAY, JUNE 5.

"Hunting Big Game in Africa," big Universal special, and comedy.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

THURSDAY, JUNE 7.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

"The Great Escape," Fox News and comedy.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SEVERELY SCORED FOR UNUSUAL ACT

Old Faulted His Views on Bay St. Louis School Needs.

By S. E. Egan.

Looks here, Mr. Mayor, you sure went an' done it. Who did you want to ask your citizens to undo the claps on their pockets books again? An' for a new school at that?

Whoever heard of such a thing? Ain't we got a school? Can't we fix some cheap carpenter to cut a few pine trees on the school grounds an' use them to prop up the old school instead of buildin' a new school?

Or maybe, if you could move the old school up to the new school, an' anchor it to the ground, that ought to steady the old school.

What's the use of spendin' good money for a new buildin' when you can do as afore said, an' then, maybe, have the Columbia people, or the Spear-Mint-Gum Company, or some other such company, paint the inside of the old school, an' let the new school be a political motive; that it is nothing more or less than an effort to manufacture an issue and win for himself the office he now holds by appointment, says the Jackson News editorially in its issue of a few days since.

Continuing, that wide-awake and progressive journal, generally found on the right side of every question affecting the public and as vital as this one, carries the following article:

"Probably nobody hit the attorney general himself can explain the motive that prompted the suit, and thus far Mr. Potter has not offered an explanation or endeavored to justify his action.

"We are not so much concerned with the attorney general's motive, however as we are the deplorable fact that the reopening of this controversy in the courts is nothing short of an act of downright repudiation, perpetrated in the name of the State. It is litigation such as this that has damned and disgraced our State for many years, handicapped our development, driven capital from our borders, and made for us an unenviable name throughout the nation.

"Several months ago the controversy over telephone rates was settled to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. Regardless of how Mr. Potter may seek to justify his action, the unchallenged and uncontroverted fact will remain that the suit was not filed in response to a demand from the people of Mississippi, or a complaint from any quarter that the new telephone rates are excessive. As a matter of truth, they are somewhat lower than rates charged in a majority of the Southern States, and decidedly lower than rates in the Far West, where the population is of no greater density than ours.

"It was shortly after the close of the World War that the Cumberland filed its first application for an increase of rates, setting forth a very conclusive array of statistics to show that it could not continue to operate in Mississippi under prevailing conditions. Railroad freight and passenger rates, express rates, and electric light rates, had all been heavily advanced during the war period, but telephone rates remained unchanged, notwithstanding the increased cost of operation.

"The application caused a big fuss, of course, and a lot of well-meaning but misguided men, utterly ignorant of prevalent conditions among the common carriers, rushed to the office of the Railroad Commission, and later into the courts, to prevent a rate increase.

"It is almost invariably the case that when any question in which the people and a public service corporation gets into the courts, both are at a devilish bad fix, and it proved to be so in this instance. Telephone service, both local and long distance, deteriorated rapidly, and it was for the reason that the corporation was without sufficient funds to rehabilitate its lines, which had been allowed to run down during the War period—the same thing that happened to the railroads—or to attempt any new construction work whatever.

"The litigation was dragging its weary length through the courts, both State and Federal, with no prospect whatever of being settled in less than five years. The little handful of men who had filed the suit soon grew weary of their new plaything. Their righteous indignation cooled off when they discovered that it costs money to prosecute a law suit, even when filed in the name of the State, so they dumped their bill for legal expenses into the legislative chambers and quit the game.

"While this was happening the telephone service was steadily going from bad to worse, in spite of heroic efforts of local managers and employees to maintain it without adequate funds. This time the Railroad Commission and the attorney general both showed that they had some common sense, ability, and after a series of hearings and conferences, in which the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

"The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise. The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MAYOR WEBB

Old Faulted His Views on Bay St. Louis School Needs.

By S. E. Egan.

Looks here, Mr. Mayor, you sure went an' done it. Who did you want to ask your citizens to undo the claps on their pockets books again? An' for a new school at that?

Whoever heard of such a thing? Ain't we got a school? Can't we fix some cheap carpenter to cut a few pine trees on the school grounds an' use them to prop up the old school instead of buildin' a new school?

Or maybe, if you could move the old school up to the new school, an' anchor it to the ground, that ought to steady the old school.

What's the use of spendin' good money for a new buildin' when you can do as afore said, an' then, maybe, have the Columbia people, or the Spear-Mint-Gum Company, or some other such company, paint the inside of the old school, an' let the new school be a political motive; that it is nothing more or less than an effort to manufacture an issue and win for himself the office he now holds by appointment, says the Jackson News editorially in its issue of a few days since.

Continuing, that wide-awake and progressive journal, generally found on the right side of every question affecting the public and as vital as this one, carries the following article:

"Probably nobody hit the attorney general himself can explain the motive that prompted the suit, and thus far Mr. Potter has not offered an explanation or endeavored to justify his action.

"We are not so much concerned with the attorney general's motive, however as we are the deplorable fact that the reopening of this controversy in the courts is nothing short of an act of downright repudiation, perpetrated in the name of the State. It is litigation such as this that has damned and disgraced our State for many years, handicapped our development, driven capital from our borders, and made for us an unenviable name throughout the nation.

"Several months ago the controversy over telephone rates was settled to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. Regardless of how Mr. Potter may seek to justify his action, the unchallenged and uncontroverted fact will remain that the suit was not filed in response to a demand from the people of Mississippi, or a complaint from any quarter that the new telephone rates are excessive. As a matter of truth, they are somewhat lower than rates charged in a majority of the Southern States, and decidedly lower than rates in the Far West, where the population is of no greater density than ours.

"It was shortly after the close of the World War that the Cumberland filed its first application for an increase of rates, setting forth a very conclusive array of statistics to show that it could not continue to operate in Mississippi under prevailing conditions. Railroad freight and passenger rates, express rates, and electric light rates, had all been heavily advanced during the war period, but telephone rates remained unchanged, notwithstanding the increased cost of operation.

"The application caused a big fuss, of course, and a lot of well-meaning but misguided men, utterly ignorant of prevalent conditions among the common carriers, rushed to the office of the Railroad Commission, and later into the courts, to prevent a rate increase.

"It is almost invariably the case that when any question in which the people and a public service corporation gets into the courts, both are at a devilish bad fix, and it proved to be so in this instance. Telephone service, both local and long distance, deteriorated rapidly, and it was for the reason that the corporation was without sufficient funds to rehabilitate its lines, which had been allowed to run down during the War period—the same thing that happened to the railroads—or to attempt any new construction work whatever.

"The litigation was dragging its weary length through the courts, both State and Federal, with no prospect whatever of being settled in less than five years. The little handful of men who had filed the suit soon grew weary of their new plaything. Their righteous indignation cooled off when they discovered that it costs money to prosecute a law suit, even when filed in the name of the State, so they dumped their bill for legal expenses into the legislative chambers and quit the game.

"While this was happening the telephone service was steadily going from bad to worse, in spite of heroic efforts of local managers and employees to maintain it without adequate funds. This time the Railroad Commission and the attorney general both showed that they had some common sense, ability, and after a series of hearings and conferences, in which the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

OF THE THINGS THAT ARE NEEDED MOST IN MISS.

Old Faulted His Views on Bay St. Louis School Needs.

By S. E. Egan.

Looks here, Mr. Mayor, you sure went an' done it. Who did you want to ask your citizens to undo the claps on their pockets books again? An' for a new school at that?

Whoever heard of such a thing? Ain't we got a school? Can't we fix some cheap carpenter to cut a few pine trees on the school grounds an' use them to prop up the old school instead of buildin' a new school?

Or maybe, if you could move the old school up to the new school, an' anchor it to the ground, that ought to steady the old school.

What's the use of spendin' good money for a new buildin' when you can do as afore said, an' then, maybe, have the Columbia people, or the Spear-Mint-Gum Company, or some other such company, paint the inside of the old school, an' let the new school be a political motive; that it is nothing more or less than an effort to manufacture an issue and win for himself the office he now holds by appointment, says the Jackson News editorially in its issue of a few days since.

Continuing, that wide-awake and progressive journal, generally found on the right side of every question affecting the public and as vital as this one, carries the following article:

"Probably nobody hit the attorney general himself can explain the motive that prompted the suit, and thus far Mr. Potter has not offered an explanation or endeavored to justify his action.

"We are not so much concerned with the attorney general's motive, however as we are the deplorable fact that the reopening of this controversy in the courts is nothing short of an act of downright repudiation, perpetrated in the name of the State. It is litigation such as this that has damned and disgraced our State for many years, handicapped our development, driven capital from our borders, and made for us an unenviable name throughout the nation.

"Several months ago the controversy over telephone rates was settled to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. Regardless of how Mr. Potter may seek to justify his action, the unchallenged and uncontroverted fact will remain that the suit was not filed in response to a demand from the people of Mississippi, or a complaint from any quarter that the new telephone rates are excessive. As a matter of truth, they are somewhat lower than rates charged in a majority of the Southern States, and decidedly lower than rates in the Far West, where the population is of no greater density than ours.

"It was shortly after the close of the World War that the Cumberland filed its first application for an increase of rates, setting forth a very conclusive array of statistics to show that it could not continue to operate in Mississippi under prevailing conditions. Railroad freight and passenger rates, express rates, and electric light rates, had all been heavily advanced during the war period, but telephone rates remained unchanged, notwithstanding the increased cost of operation.

"The application caused a big fuss, of course, and a lot of well-meaning but misguided men, utterly ignorant of prevalent conditions among the common carriers, rushed to the office of the Railroad Commission, and later into the courts, to prevent a rate increase.

"It is almost invariably the case that when any question in which the people and a public service corporation gets into the courts, both are at a devilish bad fix, and it proved to be so in this instance. Telephone service, both local and long distance, deteriorated rapidly, and it was for the reason that the corporation was without sufficient funds to rehabilitate its lines, which had been allowed to run down during the War period—the same thing that happened to the railroads—or to attempt any new construction work whatever.

"The litigation was dragging its weary length through the courts, both State and Federal, with no prospect whatever of being settled in less than five years. The little handful of men who had filed the suit soon grew weary of their new plaything. Their righteous indignation cooled off when they discovered that it costs money to prosecute a law suit, even when filed in the name of the State, so they dumped their bill for legal expenses into the legislative chambers and quit the game.

While this was happening the telephone service was steadily going from bad to worse, in spite of heroic efforts of local managers and employees to maintain it without adequate funds. This time the Railroad Commission and the attorney general both showed that they had some common sense, ability, and after a series of hearings and conferences, in which the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

The compromise was a very wise one, and it was for the reason that the attorney general was the only one who showed any sense, they agreed to settle the matter by a compromise.

SAINT STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES.

Old Faulted His Views on Bay St. Louis School Needs.

By S. E. Egan.

Looks here, Mr. Mayor, you sure went an' done it. Who did you want to ask your citizens to undo the claps on their pockets books again? An' for a new school at that?

Whoever heard of such a thing? Ain't we got a school? Can't we fix some cheap carpenter to cut a few pine trees on the school grounds an' use them to prop up the old school instead of buildin' a new school?

Or maybe, if you could move the old school up to the new school, an' anchor it to the ground, that ought to steady the old school.

What's the use of spendin' good money for a new buildin' when you can do as afore said, an' then, maybe, have the Columbia people, or the Spear-Mint-Gum Company, or some other such company, paint the inside of the old school, an' let the new school be a political motive; that it is nothing more or less than an effort to manufacture an issue and win for himself the office he now holds by appointment, says the Jackson News editorially in its issue of a few days since.

Continuing, that wide-awake and progressive journal, generally found on the right side of every question affecting the public and as vital as this one, carries the following article:

"Probably nobody hit the attorney general himself can explain the motive that prompted the suit, and thus far Mr. Potter has not offered an explanation or endeavored to justify his action.

"We are not so much concerned with the attorney general's motive, however as we are the deplorable fact that the reopening of this controversy in the courts is nothing short of an act of downright repudiation, perpetrated in the name of the State. It is litigation such as this that has damned and disgraced our State for many years, handicapped our development, driven capital from our borders, and made for us an unenviable name throughout the nation.

"Several months ago the controversy over telephone rates was settled to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. Regardless of how Mr. Potter may seek to justify his action, the unchallenged and uncontroverted fact will remain that the suit was not filed in response to a demand from the people of Mississippi, or a complaint from any quarter that the new telephone rates are excessive. As a matter of truth, they are somewhat lower than rates charged in a majority of the Southern States, and decidedly lower than rates in the Far West, where the population is of no greater density than ours.

"It was shortly after the close of the World War that the Cumberland filed its first application for an increase of rates, setting forth a very conclusive array of statistics to show that it could not continue to operate in Mississippi under prevailing conditions. Railroad freight and passenger rates, express rates, and electric light rates, had all been heavily advanced during the war period, but telephone rates remained unchanged, notwithstanding the increased cost of operation.

"The application caused a big fuss, of course, and a lot of well-meaning but misguided men, utterly ignorant of prevalent conditions among the common carriers, rushed to the office of the Railroad Commission, and later into the courts, to prevent a rate increase.

"It is almost invariably the case that when any question in which the people and a public service corporation gets into the courts, both are at a devilish bad fix, and it proved to be so in this instance. Telephone service, both local and long distance, deteriorated rapidly, and it was for the reason that the corporation was without sufficient funds to rehabilitate its lines, which had been allowed to run down during the War period—the same thing that happened to the railroads—or to attempt any new construction work whatever.

"The litigation

BAY MERCANTILE COMPANY

Bay Mercantile Bldg.

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS.

South Front St.

See the Magnificent Display of Rugs in Our Store

In this immense display you will find patterns of every description in pleasing colors and designs to match every room in the house. They are designs unusually well done, and give more pleasing effects than have ever been obtained before.

In order to prove that they are exactly as represented, rugs have been placed on the sidewalks in front of the Merchants Bank and in the Postoffice building for inspection of the public. Don't fail to see them.

Be Sure and Bring the Measurements of Your Room With You!

Floor Covering, by the square yard.....64c

Big Demonstration Sale of Bird's Neponset Floor Covering Beginning Wed., May 23rd, for 2 Weeks.

Housewives of Bay St. Louis and vicinity will be given the floor-covering sensation of a spring cleaning season. Bird's Neponset Floor Covering is offered at prices that will justify all the Neponset needed. Not only are these prices lower by far than those generally prevailing, but they are out of all reason, in view of the already increased wholesale cost. During these two weeks of sale, the prices of Neponset remain at these low figures. There are quantities of patterns, but some will be more in demand than others. So, come now for yours and bring your room measurements.

NEPONSET Floor Covering is 100 per cent water-proof. Not merely water-proof on top and bottom, but all the way through. Water cannot fade the Neponset patterns. Neither will it soak in and injure it in any way. Neponset will wear and wear, guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction. Neponset is manufactured by Bird & Son, Inc., of E. Walpole, Mass., one of the oldest and most reliable manufacturers in the United States. Their products have always been known for their "dyed-in-the-wool" worthiness and have stood the test of time.

Housewives, Don't Fail to Take Advantage of This Big Sale!

3 Sizes: 9x12, $14.95; 7 1-2 x9, $9.30; 6x9, $7.45.

SPECIAL MEETING BOARD OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN, CITY BAY ST. LOUIS.

State of Mississippi, Hancock County, City of Bay St. Louis.
Pursuant to special call, a special meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis was held at the City Hall on Monday, May 21st, at 6 o'clock p. m. There were present: Mayor R. W. Webb, Aldermen W. C. Sick, John Buehler, L. C. Carver, City Marshal Albert Jones, Secretary S. J. Ladner. Absent: Alderman H. de S. Gillum.

CALL FOR SPECIAL MEETING OF BOARD OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN.

State of Mississippi, Hancock County, City of Bay St. Louis.
To W. C. Sick, John Buehler, H. de S. Gillum and L. C. Carver, Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

You are hereby notified that a special meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis is called to meet at the City Hall, in said city, on Monday, the 21st day of May, 1923, at 6 o'clock p. m. The object of said meeting is as follows: To pay labor, appoint school trustee, advise for and determine on purchasing truck and tractor and appoint election commissioners.

R. W. WEBB, Mayor.
The City Marshal will execute and return the above notice instantly.
R. W. WEBB, Mayor.
Attest: S. J. LADNER, Clerk.

Received the above call at 8 o'clock on this 21st day of May, 1923.

ALBERT JONES, City Marshal.

We, the undersigned Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, hereby acknowledge service of the above call upon us personally at least three hours before the time of meeting and waive copy of the call.

ALBERT JONES, City Marshal.

I have served notice on the above Aldermen at least three hours before the time of meeting.

Mayor R. W. Webb appointed Mr. Chas. Mitchell a member of School Trustees for the term of three years, which expires April, 1926, same being ratified by the Board.

Mayor R. W. Webb appointed W. J. Gallup, Paul Mollere and Elmer Bourgeois election commissioners for one year, same being ratified by the Board.

Moved by Alderman Sick, seconded by Alderman Carver, and carried, that the city advertise for the purchase of (1) Fordson tractor and ex-

TRA SET OF RUBBER TIRES, (1) FORD TRUCK WITH SOLID REAR TIRE, (1) IRON SQUARE DUMP BODY FOR TRUCK, ATTACHED, A. O. B. BAY ST. LOUIS.

NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE DEALERS.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis desires to purchase and will receive sealed bids up to 2 o'clock P. M. Saturday, June 2nd, 1923, for the following articles:
1st. One new Ford tractor with extra set of rubber tires.
2nd. One new Ford truck with solid rear tires and one square iron dump body for truck. All f. o. b. Bay St. Louis, Miss.

The City reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Address all bids to:
SYLVAN J. LADNER, Secty.

Bay St. Louis, Miss. May 21, 1923.

The following bids were allowed, approved and ordered paid out of the following funds:

WATERWORKS BOND FUND.
5-11-23, Merchants Bank, fgt. and express on pipe.....$5.50

Ed. Kimmel, 1/2-mo. salary, street commissioner.....$50.00

J. E. Johnston, 1/2-mo. salary, teamster.....32.50

Jos. Capdepon, 1/2-mo. salary, teamster.....32.50

Ed. Preveau, deputy, mar., sal., 1/2 mo.....25.00

Alfred Carver, labor, 12 1/2 days, at $2.50.....$31.25

James Collier, labor, 15 days, at $2.50.....$37.50

There being no further business, the Board adjourned.

S. J. LADNER, Secretary.

CHANGES ORDERED BY L. & N.

A number of changes have taken place with the different departments of the New Orleans-Mobile division of the L. & N. Railroad, and will go into effect as soon as possible. J. E. Burton, of the Montgomery division, who has heretofore been assistant trainmaster, and has relieved J. B. Semmes, trainmaster for the New Orleans-Mobile division, has been appointed terminal master of trains for this division. An order has been received by Depot Agent E. H. Farley in this city from B. H. Harvin, chief train dispatcher, in which it is shown that in the future Venetia, Ala., just outside of Mobile, will have two shifts; Lakeshore and Rigolets will be increased to three shifts, and an additional operator clerk will be employed in the Mobile office. These additions to the employees of the company indicate that the business of the road is on the increase.—Gulf-Port Herald.

FLORIDA JUDGE IS ORDERED REMOVED.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 16.—County Judge E. P. Willis, of this Leon county, yesterday was ordered by the Senate to be removed from office. The second local official to be ousted as a result of the death of Martin Tabert. The Senate acted in executive session on the recommendation of the governor, that the Judge be removed for malfeasance and drunkenness in office.

Several weeks ago the Senate acted favorably on the governor's recommendation for the removal of Sheriff Jones.

Sometimes we wish the reckless driver had gone fishing with the fool that rocked the boat or got in front of a fine fool who didn't know it was loaded.—Life.

KEEP BOOSTING ALL THE TIME.

Boost and the world boosts with you. Knock and you knock alone. For the public gets sick of the guy who kicks. And wishes he'd never been born.

Boost when the sun grows brighter; Keep boosting all of the time. If you don't like the place, better get out of the race. And go to a hotter climate.

Boost when business is good; Boost, for it's always a sign. You'll find in the end there's a place for the men Who are boosting all the time.

Boost about things in your town. Kick and you're called a pest; For you will always find no one likes the kind Who are not boosting their best. —Dexter House.

By Mouth Hygiene Division Bureau of Child Welfare State Board of Health. STAINS.

(By Rea Proctor McGee, D. D. S., M. D., Editor "Oral Hygiene.")

More than half of all the people in the world live in Asia and have yellow or brown skins. These people have changed the course of history many times in the past and they may do it again in the future, particularly if they should learn the laws of sanitation as we know them.

There are so many men in Asia who chew the betel nut, which dyes the teeth red, that it is a good guess to say that one-tenth of all of the men now living dye their teeth red. Chewing the betel nut may be a pleasant pastime, but the bright red skin stain will never become popular in this country.

Over here we seem to favor green stains for children's teeth and brown or black stains for the teeth of adults. All of us think a Mongolian is a queer "gink" to deliberately make a habit of chewing an astringent nut that will leave its mark; yet we daily neglect to remove, or have removed, the curious shades of green and brown stains that obscure the teeth that nature gave us.

All stains should be removed from the teeth. If you cannot get them off yourself go to someone who knows how to take them off. The green stain upon children's teeth must be removed immediately if it is not to be followed by caries, or decay of the teeth. It is the normal that is beautiful. Keep your teeth normal color so that when you smile you will get an encore! (Copyright 1921, by Rea Proctor McGee.)

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children In Use For Over 30 Years

Always bears the signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

WITH THE WITS.

The Active Chief. A man was wanted by the police. They secured six different photographs of him and the pictures were circulated through the locality. The chief in a small town wrote to headquarters a few days later, saying: "I duly received the pictures of the six miscreants whose capture is desired. I have arrested five of them; the sixth is under observation and will be taken soon."—Judge.

Hands to Hold. Mrs. Henpeck (sympathically)—I suppose you've been to see a sick friend—holding his hand all evening! Mr. Henpeck (sadly)—If I'd been holding his hand, I'd have made some money.—Exchange.

And Overbely. Gym Teacher (to girls)—Lots of girls use dumb-bells to get color in their cheeks. Bright One—And lots of girls use color on their cheeks to get dumb-bells.—Kansas Sour Owl.

The Difference. A teacher was conducting a lesson in history. "Tommy Jones," she said, "what was there about George Washington which distinguished him from all other famous Americans?" "He didn't lie," was the prompt reply.—Ligurian.

Not Sure Which. Mistress—Why are you so glum, Matilda? Matilda—Ah, just got back from the dentist and he said one of my teeth would have to come out. Mistress—Which one? Matilda—Ah, don't know 'jes' which, but I think he said one of my cuspidors.—Exchange.

Kind-Hearted Lad. "Father, will you give me ten cents for a poor man who is outside crying?" "Yes, son, here it is. You are a charitable boy. What is he crying about?" "He's crying, 'Fresh roasted peanuts, five cents a bag!'—Exchange.

His Happy Retort. Johnny—Well, what did you say to that new girl last night? Archie—Well, I asked if I could see her home and she said she'd send me a picture of it.

Horror! Here lies the body of Percival Mush. His death is too sad for description. He was killed by the mob in a terrible way. When he was dropped his prescription. —Two Bells.

Vampire Vindicty! One Olsen had been working as an engine wiper and his bus, a thrifty man, had been coaching him for years.

motion to fireman with such advice as: "Now, Ole, don't waste a drop of oil—that costs money. And don't waste the water, either—that's expensive, too."

With these facts of economy pounded thoroughly into his head, Ole went up to be questioned on his eligibility as fireman. The last query propounded was: "Suppose you are on your engine on a single track. You go around a curve and see rushing toward you an express. What would you do?"

"I grab de darn oil can; I grab de darn water—and I jump!"—Santa Fe flag.

A stern father caught his boy reading a dime novel, and took him by the collar. The boy was so interested in the story that he cried aloud, "Unhand me, villain, or there will be bloodshed!"

"Rightening his hold on the collar the father said: "Not that, but wood-sled."—Exchange.

Immensely Pleased. He rode to the dentist's office. The picture of despair. But came back smiling broadly—The dentist wasn't there. —Exchange.

Had Nasal Evidence. She was rather green at the game and they had about reached a hole which was on the top of a little hill. The youth ran up first to see the lie of the balls. "A styrie!" he shouted, "a dead styrie!" The young lady came up with a snarl. "Well, do you know," she said, "I thought I smelled something as I was walking up the hill."—Boston Transcript.

Some people take bichlorate of mercury tablets, while others try to beat the train to the crossing. —Buzzer.

CHANCERY SUMMONS—No. 2633. The State of Mississippi, To Mrs. Thomas D. Taguine and Miss Victoria Taguine: You are commanded to appear before the Chancery Court of the County of Hancock, in said State, on the 6th Monday of October, A. D. 1923, to defend the suit in said Court of S. C. Larkin et al., wherein you are a defendant.

This 20th day of May, A. D. 1923. (Seal.) A. A. KERGOSEN, Clerk.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS. Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, according to law, for the supplying of material and building of tracks for the county main, as per plans and specifications on file in the office of the Board of Supervisors.

This 20th day of May, A. D. 1923. (Seal.) A. A. KERGOSEN, Clerk.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS. Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, according to law, for the supplying of material and building of tracks for the county main, as per plans and specifications on file in the office of the Board of Supervisors.

This 20th day of May, A. D. 1923. (Seal.) A. A. KERGOSEN, Clerk.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS. Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, according to law, for the supplying of material and building of tracks for the county main, as per plans and specifications on file in the office of the Board of Supervisors.

This 20th day of May, A. D. 1923. (Seal.) A. A. KERGOSEN, Clerk.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS. Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, according to law, for the supplying of material and building of tracks for the county main, as per plans and specifications on file in the office of the Board of Supervisors.

This 20th day of May, A. D. 1923. (Seal.) A. A. KERGOSEN, Clerk.

file in the County Clerk's office. Said bids to be received until 11 o'clock A. M., MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1923. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

This 15th day of May, A. D. 1923. A. A. KERGOSEN, Clerk.

NOTICE: IN THE MATTER OF THE VALIDATION OF THE HANCOCK COUNTY ROAD AND TO THE TAXPAYERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI.

You are hereby notified that the matter of the validation of an issue of $400,000.00 (Four Hundred Thousand Dollars) Hancock County Road and Bridge Bonds will come on for hearing before the Chancellor at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 6th day of June, 1923. On or before which date objections, if any, must be filed.

(Seal.) CHANCERY CLERK A. KERGOSEN, Hancock County, Mississippi.

NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE DEALERS. Notice is hereby given that the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis desires to purchase and will receive sealed bids up to 2 o'clock P. M. Saturday, June 2nd, 1923, for the following articles:

1st. One new Ford tractor with extra set of rubber tires.
2nd. One new Ford truck with solid rear tires and one square iron dump body for truck. All f. o. b. Bay St. Louis, Miss. May 21, 1923.

The City reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Address all bids to:
SYLVAN J. LADNER, Secty.
Bay St. Louis, Miss. May 21, 1923.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS FOR CITY WORK. Contract for Laying 18-Inch Storm Sewer Pipe.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss., will receive bids up to 2 o'clock P. M. JUNE 2, 1923, at the City Hall, for laying approximately eight (800) hundred feet of eighteen (18) inch storm sewer pipe, said pipe now distributed along the line of work in said city.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen reserves the right to reject any or all bids. R. W. WEBB, Mayor.
Attest: S. J. LADNER, Secretary.

ORDINANCE. An Ordinance receiving, adopting, filing and declaring as the official map of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, that the maps or plans of the City (two) of the First Ward, one of the Second Ward, one of the Third Ward and one of the Fourth Ward, as ordered by the City, and as filed with the Clerk, marked filed May 1st, 1923, properly showing all the territory within the City limits, be and the same is hereby filed, accepted, ratified and adopted as the Official Map of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Section 2. That said map be and is hereby filed as of May 1st, 1923, and the Assessor is hereby directed to make all assessments by and according to said maps as made by E. S. Drake, but assessments made by any other map or maps shall be null and void.

Section 3. That the tracing from which said maps are made are hereby declared as a part thereof and the Clerk is hereby directed to mark said tracing filed as of May 1st, 1923, and are hereby declared the official tracing from which copies of the said official maps are to be made when needed.

Section 4. That this ordinance take effect and be in force from and after its passage. Approved in open Board this 5th day of May, 1923.

R. W. WEBB, Mayor.
S. J. LADNER, Secretary.

ORDINANCE. An Ordinance declaring, recognizing and continuing the Taylor School and Webb School, being the First Ward and Fourth Ward Public Schools, regardless of the building or establishing of other schools.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, that the R. W. Taylor School and Webb School, being the First Ward and Fourth Ward Public Schools, shall be and are hereby continued. That said schools shall be continued as said public schools for the benefit of the people of those localities as said schools are now located.

Section 2. That the building of any school as contemplated or otherwise shall be null and void.

This 12th day of May, A. D. 1923. A. A. KERGOSEN, Clerk.

In no way change or effect any operation of said Webb School. Section 3. That this Ordinance be in force from its passage. Approved in open Board this 5th day of May, 1923.

S. J. LADNER, Secretary.

RESOLUTION. Whereas, the Board of City Trustees have presented a resolution for an issuance of bonds for the construction and equipping of a school building, and an engineer has drawn plans and submitted estimates to the School Board and said School Board has approved and recommended the issuance of said bonds, and the same may be necessary and legal, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent, and the purchase of the same is hereby authorized.

Therefore, Be it Resolved by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, that the bonds of the City of Bay St. Louis, in the sum of $100,000.00, be and the same are hereby authorized to be issued, and the same may be necessary and legal, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent, and the purchase of the same is hereby authorized.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

Be it further Resolved, that the resolution be and is hereby given to the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in accordance with Chapter 206 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1900, and section 3419 of the Annotated Code of 1906 of the State of Mississippi, and the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, be and are hereby authorized to execute and deliver the same.

"Feeling Fine!"

"I was pale and thin, hardly able to go," says Mrs. C. C. "I would suffer when I stood on my feet, with bearing-down pains in my sides and the lower part of my body. I did not rest well and didn't want anything to eat. My color was bad and I felt miserable. A friend of mine told me of

CARDUI

The Women's Tonic

and I then commenced to use CARDUI. The first bottle I used brought me back to normal health and I felt like a new woman.

and I then commenced to use CARDUI. The first bottle I used brought me back to normal health and I felt like a new woman.

and I then commenced to use CARDUI. The first bottle I used brought me back to normal health and I felt like a new woman.

and I then commenced to use CARDUI. The first bottle I used brought me back to normal health and I felt like a new woman.

and I then commenced to use CARDUI. The first bottle I used brought me back to normal health and I felt like a new woman.

and I then commenced to use CARDUI. The first bottle I used brought me back to normal health and I felt like a new woman.

AW, WHAT'S THE USE

of a medicine that doesn't do anything? The use of a medicine is to cure the disease it is intended to treat. If it doesn't do anything, it is useless.

The use of a medicine is to cure the disease it is intended to treat. If it doesn't do anything, it is useless.

The use of a medicine is to cure the disease it is intended to treat. If it doesn't do anything, it is useless.

The use of a medicine is to cure the disease it is intended to treat. If it doesn't do anything, it is useless.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf from an old book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor creases and discoloration, particularly along the right edge where a dark, irregular border is visible. There is no text or other markings on the page.